

To Be Released: Thursday, April 22, 2021

Due to current CDC guidance on how long the Corona-19 Virus lives on hard surfaces, the Lewisboro Library will no longer be quarantining returned and incoming materials.

Items that are returned in the book drop and the green bin will be backdated to the last date that we were open. Items that are returned to the desk will not be backdated.

Although the Lewisboro Library has decided to no longer quarantine, not all libraries within the Westchester Library System have chosen to do so. Please keep this in mind when you return items to other libraries. They may remain on your record longer than expected. However, all libraries are backdating the check in date of quarantined returns. Any fines that may accrue during the quarantine period will be waived.
